

Reagan McMillan is a young lady from Charleston who finds herself not only in the middle of her country's Civil War, but who also finds herself torn between three men: One she loves, one who loves her, and one who she has promised to marry. Reagan's story faces so many twists and turns that nobody, least of all Reagan, knows how it will turn out. Who will she pick and which man is worthy of Reagan's Honor?